
TORTIVE THEATRE

HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

Currently, Tortive Theatre has fewer than 5 employees and is therefore not legally required to maintain a written Health and Safety Policy.

Much of our work takes place online or in third-party venues or buildings

For those who work with us from home please refer to the Health and Safety Executive guidance on homeworking for advice and best practice information.

Tortive Theatre is committed to ensuring that those employees working from home do not feel disconnected, isolated or abandoned. We also recognise that the experience of lone working is different for every individual, with different levels of communication and contact required in each circumstance. Senior managers will work with individuals to build a specific communication and contact procedure that is suitable for each lone worker.

WORKING ON THIRD-PARTY SITES

All employees, contractors or volunteers who work for or on behalf of Tortive Theatre are required to adhere to the Health and Safety Policies of any third-party venues and buildings. Failure to do so may result in action against the employee, contractor or volunteer as defined by the Disciplinary and Grievance Policy.
